Tollesbury School Curriculum Intent

The children at Tollesbury School learn through a curriculum that fosters a lifelong love of learning. We want our children to leave Tollesbury School equipped with the necessary skills to prepare them for a successful future. The curriculum is given a relevant context, which allows the children to understand that their learning has a purpose.

Our curriculum provides opportunities for the children to:

- Build resilience
- Become creative
- Have a healthy self-esteem
- Be independent
- Become critical thinkers
- Develop interpersonal skills

Building on prior learning, our curriculum provides a variety of first-hand learning experiences. This is achieved through the school, local and wider environments.

We work in collaboration with other schools and external providers which enables the children to access a broad curriculum and develop the children's talents. This encourages self-belief so that children can face challenges with the expectation of success.
